SeaGen Secure® starts with dedicated support from an Oncology Nurse Advocate.

When you call SeaGen Secure, you will speak with your dedicated Oncology Nurse Advocate.

- An Oncology Nurse Advocate is an experienced cancer nurse
- The same Oncology Nurse Advocate will be there for you before, during, and after your therapy
- The Oncology Nurse Advocate can answer questions and offer resources about your ADCETRIS® (brentuximab vedotin) therapy and your disease

The Oncology Nurse Advocate will identify the most important needs or concerns you or your caregiver have and offer resources to address them. The Oncology Nurse Advocate can also refer you to a respected cancer advocacy organization to better support your specific needs.

The Oncology Nurse Advocate can provide:

- Answers to your questions about your disease or your ADCETRIS therapy
- Emotional support if you need to talk to someone who understands what you are going through
- Personalized resources for your specific needs such as tips for balancing work and cancer, referral to transportation assistance, and putting you in touch with others like you
- Caregiver support: if your caregiver needs help, they can call the Oncology Nurse Advocate who will connect them with organizations that can provide support

Strengthen your support network

Your Oncology Nurse Advocate can connect you with cancer advocacy organizations to help you:

- Balance work and cancer with access to career coaching and legal and financial information
- Connect with other patients through peer-to-peer connection programs
- Get emotional support from a licensed mental health professional who is an expert in cancer-related issues
- Get to and from your appointments with transportation assistance
